

Single Equality Policy and Accessibility Plan

Introduction

Brougham Primary School as part of Ad Astra Academy Trust recognises and embraces the fact that everyone within our school community is unique. We seek to ensure that everyone reaches their full potential and as such we believe that everyone has the right to equality of opportunity. We seek to ensure that this philosophy permeates every aspect of school life.

1. Focus

The focus of this policy is to ensure that the culture in school is one where every member of the school and the Academy Trust family feels safe and secure in the knowledge that discrimination in any form will not be tolerated and will be challenged at every level. We will seek to ensure that no one will experience discrimination as a result of;

- Sex
- Race
- Disability
- Religion or belief
- Age
- Sexual orientation
- Gender reassignment
- Pregnancy or maternity

These are known as 'protected characteristics' as highlighted in the Equality Act 2010. However, at Brougham Primary School we also believe that because of the deprived characteristics of some of our local communities and consequently the challenging circumstances that many of our children face, we will also ensure that no one will experience discrimination due to their socio-economic background or family circumstances.

2. Principles

The principles which underpin and shape this policy are;

- We will continue to embrace and celebrate our strong inclusion culture.
- We will actively promote the philosophy that everyone in life is equal.
- Through positive educational experiences we aim to promote positive social attitudes and respect for all.
- Discrimination in any form will not be tolerated and positive action will be taken to address it.
- All pupils will have equal access to the full range of educational opportunities provided by the school.
- We will ensure that all recruitment, employment, promotion and training opportunities are conducted fairly.
- Prejudice and stereotypical views and opinions will be challenged at all times.
- Diversity will be celebrated.
- We will consult and involve stakeholders in the development of equality policies to ensure accountability and transparency.
- Inequality and barriers to equality are identified and reduced.

These principles apply to all school stakeholders including, children, parents, staff, governors, volunteers and visitors. Indeed, anyone associated with the Academy Trust is expected to adhere to the principles outlines above.

3. Legislation

Our commitment to equality is reinforced by our duty to comply with equality legislation.

The Equality Act 2010 replaced all previous equality legislation such as the Race Relations Act, Disability Discrimination Act and Sex Discrimination Act. The Equality Act 2010 provides a single, consolidated source of discrimination law, covering all the types of discrimination that are unlawful. It has simplified the law by removing anomalies and inconsistencies that had developed over time in existing legislation and extended the protection from discrimination in certain areas.

Whilst we are bound by our legislative duty, we also believe that it is our moral duty and purpose to ensure that our equality philosophy forms an integral part of our academic, pastoral, leadership and management functions that form the foundations of our Trust.

Ad Astra Academy Trust welcomes any other legislation or amendment to existing legislation that seeks to further reinforce the duty of equality of opportunity for all.

The Equality Act also introduced a Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED) that applies to public bodies, including maintained schools and Academies and which extends to all protected characteristics. This duty has three main elements;

In carrying out their functions, public bodies are required to have due regard to the need to;

- Eliminate discrimination and other conduct that is prohibited by the Act.
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.
- Foster good relations across all characteristics between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.

What having 'due regard' means in practice has been defined in case law and means giving relevant and proportionate consideration to the duty. For Ad Astra Academy Trust this means;

- Anyone who is responsible for making decisions in school must be aware of the duty to have 'due regard' when making a decision or taking an action and must assess whether it may have implications for people with protected characteristics.
- Equality implications must be considered before and at the time that policies are developed and not as an afterthought. They need to be kept under review on a continuing basis.
- The PSED has to be integrated into the carrying out of our functions and the analysis necessary to comply with the duty has to be carried out seriously, rigorously and with an open mind. It is not just a question of 'ticking boxes' or following a particular process.
- We cannot delegate the responsibility for carrying out our duty to anyone else.

4. Safeguarding

As is the case for every school, Brougham Primary School and Ad Astra Academy Trust are bound by protocols and procedures in cases where we suspect a child is being abused. Parents need to be aware that we have a duty to act to ensure the safety and wellbeing of all of our children if we suspect a child is being ill-treated or neglected. All staff are aware of the responsibility to inform the school designated officers who in turn will inform the relevant Local Authority. When a school refers a concern about a pupil to the Local Authority it is not accusing parents of abuse but is requesting that further investigation takes place to establish whether the child is at risk.

5. Implementation

We will ensure implementation of this policy through action in the following areas;

- Relationships and ethos

To foster behaviour based on rights, responsibilities and mutual respect between all members of the school community, to support pupils' personal development and well-being, to address all forms of prejudice related bullying.

- Equity and excellence

To ensure equal opportunities for all to succeed at the highest possible level possible, removing barriers to access and participation in learning and wider activities and minimising variations in outcomes for different groups.

- Teaching, learning and curriculum

To teach pupils to understand others, to promote common values and value diversity, to promote awareness of human rights and of the responsibility to uphold and defend them, and to develop the skills of participation and responsible action.

- Engagement and extended services

To provide a means for children, young people and their families to interact with people from different backgrounds and build positive relations, including links with different school communities locally, across the country and internationally.

6. Monitoring, Review and Impact Assessment

This policy will be regularly reviewed by staff, governors and Trustees to ensure that it is effective in tackling discrimination, promoting access and participation and equality between different groups.
